Magnesia Zirconia Bricks for Smelting Furnace

1,Characteristics of Magnesita Zirconia Bricks for Smelting Furnace:

high alkali resistance,strong slag resistance,good peeling resistance, high temperature resistance.

2,Use effect:

Since the development of the product, many users have responded to the use effect is very good, better than magnesita brick, spinel brick, high alumina brick containing zirconium, etc.

3,Application:

Glass furnace,cement kiln,electric furnace for steelmaking and other smelting furnace.

4,Packaging:

Fumigated wooden pallet + waterproof film + fastening belt

5,Knowledge of Magnesita Zirconia Bricks for Smelting Furnace:

Magnesium zirconium brick is a special refractory product, which is a new product developed in recent years,the main raw materials of the product are fused magnesita and zirconia powder.In the process of high temperature sintering, periclase and zirconia form eutectic, and thin ZrO_2 coating is uniformly formed on the surface of magnesita particles, which forms a solid ZrO_2 sintering layer between the periclase particles, so that the product has good performance.The product does not crack, peel off, and has good thermal shock resistance and corrosion resistance,the good performance of the product has been proved in the use of regenerator and melting chamber.
